Kodiak Building Partners partners with San Antonio Masonry and Steel, expanding in Texas

ENGLEWOOD, Colo., August 27, 2024— Kodiak Building Partners, a leading building materials distribution company, announced today the acquisition of San Antonio Masonry and Steel, a premier provider of masonry, stone, stucco and steel products in south Texas. This strategic acquisition, which closed on August 13, further strengthens Kodiak’s presence in the Texas market and celebrates San Antonio Masonry and Steel’s distinguished legacy of quality and community engagement.

This is Kodiak’s first construction supply business acquisition since the addition of Barnsco in Dallas, Texas, to its portfolio. The decision to expand in this area of construction supply is driven by strong growth projections for the Texas construction sector and the opportunity to tap into a dynamic market. Additionally, San Antonio Masonry and Steel demonstrates an intangible quality that Kodiak holds paramount to success – empowering employees and customers to grow and build a better future for themselves and their community.

Since its founding in 2000, San Antonio Masonry and Steel has grown significantly, now employing more than 150 team members and serving a wide range of residential and commercial builders in the San Antonio metropolitan area. The company is renowned for its exceptional customer service and extensive product range, establishing itself as a trusted leader in the local construction industry.

“Kodiak is committed to partnering with locally established companies with strong reputations and community ties,” said Steve Swinney, CEO of Kodiak Building Partners. “Like Robbin, I’m in a glass case of emotion as we celebrate this milestone. This investment enhances our operational capabilities, expands our service offerings and drives growth in in a market where we are already well established.”

The acquisition will provide access to Kodiak’s advanced operational technologies, comprehensive training programs and extensive network of industry connections. This support will help San Antonio Masonry and Steel continue to uphold its high standards of service while exploring new growth opportunities. For Kodiak, integrating this business into its holdings establishes a deeper foothold in the Texas market and complements its existing operations in the region.

“We are excited to join forces with Kodiak Building Partners,” said Robbin Bostick, President of San Antonio Masonry and Steel. “This partnership will enhance our operational efficiency and growth prospects while allowing us to remain dedicated to our core values and community involvement.”
